REMARKS.

THIS Catalogue embraces the Library of W. A. Gramer, of New York City, who has been a busy collector for the last thirty years, and during that period he has accumulated many literary varieties of the great authors of Europe and America. Being of a fastidious nature, he was particular to obtain the best possible copies of the many nuggets herein described.

Of the Modern Authors will be found virtually complete collections of the first editions of the works of Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Ambrose Bierce, H. C. Bunner, Geo. W. Cable, Mark Twain, Joel Chandler Harris, Bret Harte, Lafcadio Hearn, Wm. Dean Howells, Joaquin Miller, Thos. Nelson Page, James Whitcomb Riley, and Henry D. Thoreau, as well as first editions of Hawthorne, Emerson, Holmes, Browning, Edwin Arnold, Coleridge, Eugene Fields, Lewis Carroll, John Gay, John Milton, Edmond Gosse, John Hay, O. Henry, James Russell Lowell, George Meredith, Edgar Allen Poe, Walter Pater, Shelley, Keats, Symonds, Thackeray, and many others.

Among the First Editions of Milton will be found a fine copy of Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained; in those of Poe are a unique copy of the Raven, in Sheets; and Tales of the Grotesque and Arabesque, in original cloth; a fine copy of Keats' Endymion; Shelley's Queen Mab, The Revolt of Islam, and Rosalind and Helen; Lord Beacon's Essays, 1625; Drake's Culprit Fay; Geyler's Ship of Fools, 1510; Gay's Trivia; Goldsmith's She Stoops to Conquer; Hawthorne's Scarlet Letter; The Pre-Raphaelete Tennyson, etc., etc.

Other items of interest in the Catalogue are the Collection of Early Printed Books, which includes nine fine specimens of Incunabula, and many choice specimens of the Aldine, Elzevir and Plantin Presses. There will also be found fine copies of Baker's Chronicle, 1684; Oeuvres de Jehan Foucquet; Contes de La Fontaine; Montaigne's Essays; 1632, and Pickering's Large Paper Copy of Walton & Cotton's Angler; Publications of the Grolier Club, Bibliophile Society and the Kelmscott Press; also Large Paper Copies of the Works of John Fiske, Longfellow, and Thoreau.

An Item of Special Interest is the five Original Manuscripts by Lafcadio Hearn. These do not belong to this collection, but were consigned direct by Mrs. Lafcadio Hearn to me from Tokio, Japan, to be sold for her account, and she informs me that they embrace all the manuscripts she possesses.

Among the Autograph Letters in this collection is the original letter of arrest of Boss (W. M.) Tweed, signed by Secretary Robson. A fine series of letters of James A. McNeill Whistler; an historical letter of John Quincy Adams, and of Thomas Jefferson; a characteristic letter of Eugene Field; and an interesting letter of Oliver Wendell Holmes.

The last four hundred lots of the catalogue embrace a rare and valuable collection of American History, including thirteen separate works relating to Maj. John André; Beverly's Virginia 1705; Colden's Five Indian Nations 1747; Dickenson's God Protecting Providence, both issues of the London 1700 edition; Fanning's Narrative New York 1806; Treaties with the Indians held at Lancaster, Printed by Benjamin Franklin in 1744 and 1763; Fulton's Torpedo War, New York 1810; Reasons for Establishing the Colony of Georgia, London 1733; First Edition of Hennepin's Discoveries 1697; Imlay and Filson's Western Territory and Kentucky 1793; McAfee's Late War Lexington, 1816; Montgomery's South Carolina, London 1717; Large paper copy of the first edition of Parkman's Works; Prince's

New England, Boston 1736; Various works of Rafinesque; Declaration of Sir Walter Raleigh, London 1618; Sargent's Loyalists Poetry, Philadelphia 1857, and Sargent's Loyal Verses, Albany 1860; a superb copy of Schoolcraft's Indian Tribes, Philadelphia 1851-57; First Edition of Smith's Virginia, London 1624; First Edition of Smith's New Jersey, Burlington, 1765; First Edition of Stith's Virginia, Williamsburg, 1747; First Edition of Beverly's Virginia; Wither's Border Warfare; Clarksburg, 1831; and many other items of equal importance.

In fact, the whole catalogue teems with items of intense literary and historical importance. Many of the books are in special bindings by the most noted of the craft, and, as a rule, all are in excellent condition.

CATALOGUE

1 Adams, John Quincy. President of the United States. Autograph letter, signed, 4 pages, 4to. St. Petersburg, May 13, 1812.

A highly interesting letter on the eve of the War of 1812, in which he gives his views of the political condition of Europe and in reference to his own country, he says:

"In reflecting upon your observations with regard to the policy of a war with England, I am happy to find your opinion perfectly concurring with my own. We want neither provocation nor cause for War. But unfortunately neither the most righteous cause, nor the most atrocious provocation are the principal objects of calculation, when the question is upon the policy of War. They decide indeed the question of its justice, but have very little weight upon that of its Prudence. The effect of War upon our National character, and Institutions would probably be great, and I hope favorable. That we should be destined to enjoy a perpetual Peace, however ardently humanity might desire it, cannot reasonably be expected. If War is is not the natural State of human Society at all time, it is of the age upon which we have fallen. The Spirit of Ambition, of Glory, and of Conquest, burns in Europe with an intenseness beyond all former example. France & England are equally inflamed with it and consuming under it. The present prime minister of England, who appears to be firmly rooted in that Station, has openly avowed the purpose of endless war. France without making the profession, has a Government whose temptations to War are far more alluring, and whose success by War, has been far more fasinating than those which have inspired the British Delirium. The result is however the same, War is now the permanent political system of both Nations, and Conquest is the object of both. Neither our distance nor the intervening Ocean can or will protect us from the consequences of this European Spirit, and its application sooner or later to ourselves," &c.

Folio, half morocco. Venetiis apud Federicum Turrisanum, 1549

Fine copy of a very rare Aldine imprint, with a beautiful woodcut heading printed in red. It was printed by Fredericus Turrisanus, Paulus Manutius' uncle and partner. Renouard gives a long account of the merits and rarity of the volume. He relates the estrangement between the Aldine partners, viz.: Fredericus Turrisanus and his nephews, the sons of Aldus Manutius. The cause was that Fredericus wanted to publish, after the fashion of the old Aldus, chiefly Greek books, while Paulus Manutius cared exclusively for Latin publications, &c.

4 vols. 4to, buckram, top edges gilt, uncut. Unwin, London, 1906
Only 165 copies printed, of which this is No. 113, 10 of which were printed on Japan paper. This edition of Don Quixote is a long-considered tribute to the memory of Cervantes. Every effort has been made to give it a character adequate to the occasion. The text is that of Shelton, the Elizabethan translation which has been admitted, by all discerning Cervantists, to be the one which most accurately and most sympathetically reproduces the strength and charm of the original. The illustrations are by the late Daniel Vierge, and they represent a labour of love—these drawings by the prince of modern pen-draughtsmen being the outcome of an ambition, which he cherished throughout his life, to provide a pictorial accompainment to the chief literary monument of his native land.

218 Chinese Paintings on Rice. A Series of twenty Beautifully executed and Highly colored Paintings on Rice. Exhibiting the manners and costumes of the Peruvian people. In oblong raw silk portfolio.

This and the two following lots are of unusual interest, as it is seldom we have the work of a Chinese artist portraying the costumes of any country aside from their own.

219 Chinese Paintings on Rice. A Series of nine Beautifully executed and Highly colored Paintings on Rice. Exhibiting the costumes of Peru. In oblong raw silk portfolio.

The peculiarity of this item is that there are four copies of one and five copies of another subject, only, but so closely painted that they show no variation.

220 Chinese Paintings on Rice. A Series of thirty-nine Beautifully executed and Highly colored Paintings on Rice. Exhibiting the religious and social costumes, &c., of the Peruvian people. In oblong raw silk portfolio.

This remarkable collection of Chinese Rice Paintings described in the above nine lots were executed by a Chinese artist, under order of the House of Wetmore & Co., in 1849, who were then trading largely with China. The name of the artist is not known, as is the case with most all paintings of this class. The workmanship is superb, and the subjects of exceeding interest, and the coloring so brilliant and enhancing that it excites our admiration and curiosity. They are much sought after now, and those of such merit as these exhibit are difficult to get.

9 vols. 12mo, cloth. v. p., v. d.

This is a collection of novels of a recent date which aroused heated Religious and Sectional controversy. Those by Thos. Dixon, Jr., aroused the old spirit of New England Abolitionism, and were roundly denounced on account of the stand he took against the negro population of the country, his denouncers thereby increasing his popularity, and enrolling him with those who were not afraid to speak the truth, no matter how distasteful it might be. The others aroused religious censure on account of their attacks on modern Christianity and morals. A set like this is very seldom met with collectively.

Paris, 1869

Illustrated with 32 remarkable Etchings by Fellcian, Raps, Hubert, and others. The finest collection of folk-lore ever published.

304 Coxe, Peter. The Social Day; a Poem, in four cantos. Thirty-two steel plates by Stothard and others.

Royal 8vo, full green crushed levant morocco, gilt backs, sides and edges. London, 1823

Large paper, with India proof plates. Magnificent copy; copies with the plates marked "Proof" seldom occur for sale. This work is remarkable for exceeding beauty of the engravings, which were executed from drawings by many eminent painters: Wilkie, Stothard, Smirke, A. and R. Cooper, Callcott, Constable, Chalon, Wade, etc. The exquisite plate of the "Broken Jar," by Wilkie, engraved by Warren, "the first plate executed on steel," was nearly five years in the hands of the artist.

305 Crane and His Cronies. Crane (Stephen) and Five other Authors. The Lanthorn Book: Being a Small Collection of Tales and Verses Read at the Sign o' the Lanthorn, 126 William Street; New York. Illustrated.

Imperial 8vo, dark green cloth, with a decorative front cover label and a broad back of rough brown calf. New York, 1898

An uncut and unopened copy. Those who joined with Crane in writing the stories for this book, and in its private printing, were Post Wheeler, Charles Kelsey Gaines, "M Quad," John Langdon Heaton and Irving Bacheller. They (with "Steve" as the chief spirit) constituted the "Lanthorn Club," and regularly gathered at the ancient building above mentioned, at that time a restaurant, and once the resort of Captain Kid. Crane and each one of the other authors named has written his autograph, in ink, at the end of his own story or poem. Of the 125 copies privately printed by the group for distribution among their friends this is Number 5.

306 Croker, Rt. Hon. Jno. Wilson. The Croker Papers. The Correspondence and Diaries of. Edited by Louis J. Jennings. Portrait.

340 Drake, Joseph Rodman. The Culprit Fay and Other Poems. Portrait of the author and engraved title.

Royal 8vo, original cloth. New York, 1835

Fitz-Greene Halleck's copy, with numerous marginal corrections and alterations in his autograph. The volume being dedicated to Halleck, it is probably a presentation copy, being in addition the scarce first issue of the first edition, which rarely is met with. The annotations are mainly suggestions for other readings or renderings, and are of remarkable interest as showing how the two poets would treat the same poetic fancy. The copy is an exceptionally tall and uncut one, measuring nearly half an inch taller than usual.

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPTS BY LAFCADIO HEARN.

NOTE.—These manuscripts were consigned direct from Tokyo, by Mrs. Lafcadio Hearn, the wife of the distinguished Author, and comprise all the manuscripts by Mr. Hearn in her possession. We are safe in saying that such an opportunity to obtain an original manuscript of an Author, who is continually rising in the estimation of the literary world, will not occur again.

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF LAFCADIO HEARN'S GLIMPSES OF UNFAMILIAR JAPAN.

595 Hearn, Lafcadio. The original manuscript of Glimpses of Unfamiliar Japan, which was published in 2 volumes. Post 8vo form, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston, 1894.

8vo. in drop case.

This manuscript is of the most noted work of the Author. Lacks the title, dedication page, Preface, and twelve opening lines of the first article, "My First Day in the Orient." It is in two volumes. Written in ink in the well-known characteristic and legible hand of Lafcadio Hearn. Consists of 1434 pages; Index, 20 pages; lacking page 12, and 4 illustrations.

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF LAFACADIO HEARN'S TRANSLATION OF FLAUBERT'S TEMPTATION OF ST. ANTHONY.

596 Hearn, Lafcadio. The Original Manuscript of The Temptation of St. Anthony. By Gustave Flaubert. Translated by Lafcadio Hearn, which was published by The Alice Harriman Company, New York, 1910.

8vo, in drop case.

The Manuscript is in 2 vols., written in pencil, in the well-known and characteristic legible hand of Lafcadio Hearn. Vol. 1, 364 pp.; Vol. 2, 368 pp.; addenda of 5 pp., making in all 737 pp., bound in 2 vols, oblong 8vo, half roan.

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF LAFCADIO HEARN'S IN GHOSTLY JAPAN.

597 Hearn, Lafcadio. The Original Manuscript of In Ghostly Japan, which was published in 12mo form by Little, Brown & Co., Boston, 1899.

8vo. in drop case.

This Manuscript, which is without title or introduction, is comprised of 13 monographs. All written in the well-known characteristic and legible hand, in ink, of Lafcadio Hearn, viz., FRAGMENTS, 11 pp.; FURISODÉ, 12 pp.; INCENSE, 63 pp.; A STORY OF DEVINATION, 25 pp.; SILKWORMS, 31 pp.; A PASSIONAL KARMA, 103 pp.; FOOTPRINTS OF THE BUDDHA, 33 pp.; ULULATION, 31 pp.; BITS OF POETRY, 48 pp.; JAPANESE BUDDHIST PROVERBS, 93 pp.; SUGGESTION, 12 pp.; INGWA-BANASHI, 20 pp.; A YAIDZU, 51 pp.—in all, 533 pp. 8vo.

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF LAFCADIO HEARN'S EXOTICS AND RETROSPECTIVES.

598 Hearn, Lafcadio. The Original Manuscript of Exotics and Retrospectives, which was published in 12mo form by Little, Brown & Co., Boston, 1878, in drop case.

This embraces the whole of the original manuscript, with the exception of the nine concluding words "through countless forgotten cycles of your own incalculable past" of the retrospective entitled the Eternal Haunter. The works consist of sixteen separate Monographs, all neatly written in Hearn's well-known characteristic and legible hand, viz.: FIJI-NO-YAMA, on 64 pp. with Title and Dedication and 4 pp. of Introduction. INSECT MUSICIANS, 115 pp. A QUESTION IN THE ZEN TEXTS, 22 pp. THE LITERATURE OF THE DEAD, 170 pp. FROGS, 44 pp. OF MOON DESIRE, 24 pp. MURMURS AND SCENTS OF THE INFINITE SEA, 30 pp. BEAUTY IS MEMORY, 25 pp. SADNESS IN BEAUTY, 17 pp. PARFUME DE JEUNESSE, 11 pp. AZURE PSYCHOLOGY, 36 pp. A SERENADE, 22 pp. A RED SUNSET, 28 pp. FRISSON, 25 pp. VESPERTINO COGNIATIO, 47 pp. THE ETERNAL HAUNTER, 20 pp., in all 706 pp. 8vo.

Impressus Memmingen, per Albertum Kunne, 1483

Printed by the first printer of Memmeingen.

673 Incunabula. Fasciculus Temporommes antiquorum cronicas completes.

4to, new calf. Circa, 1484

The author was Werner Rolewinck, a Carthusian monk of Laer, in Westphalia, born about 1425. He wrote several treatises on theological subjects, and this compendium of the History of the World. The first edition was probably one of those issued by Arnold Ter Hoernen in Cologne, or by Nicolas Gotz in the same city, in 1474. The first has the date in the colophon, while the latter omits it, but continues the history to 1474, so that it must have been printed not before that year. Many editions were printed to the commencement of the sixteenth century, evidencing its great popularity. This edition, without imprint, is printed with the types of Johann Pruss, of Strassburg, and as the last date is 1484, was printed probably about that year.

The woodcut illustrations are interesting examples of the art, showing the transition from the earlier styles of the playing-card maker to the convential manner of book illustrating. Like all the earlier illustrated books, one cut is made to represent different subjects. In the cut which first appears as Nineveh, subsequently re-appears as Athens, Rome, Lyons, Cologne, etc. In the same way the cut which at first represents the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah also serves for the burning of Troy and the destruction of Babylon. The other woodcuts are the frontispiece, showing the author presenting the book to the Emperor. The figures of our Saviour, a mermaid and a merman, a cynocephalus and three figures of comets.

674 Incunabula. Phisiologus Theobaldi episcopi di natures duo decim animalium. (In verse, with commentary.)

Small 4to, full brown crushed levant, gilt. dentelle borders, gilt edges by Riviere. Deventer, Richard Paffroet, circa, 1488

A beautiful copy, on 18 leaves in gothic characters of two sizes, long lines with signatures, without pagination or catch words. Campbell, 1648. Seen by him, in the collection of Senator Vergauwen, and also in that of Mr. Schinkel at the Hague.

A few pages slightly worm-eaten.

676 Incunabula. Nuremberg Chronicle. Schedel, Hartmann. Chronicon Nurembergense. Illustrated with nearly two thousand wood engravings.

Royal folio, new half calf, oak boards, in imitation of the antique, rough edges. Nuremberg : Anthonius Koberger, 1493

An exceptionally large copy of the world-noted book. measuring 17¾ x 12½. It has the folios CCLXVIIII, CCLX, and CCLXI, which are blank, though numbered, and it also contains the "De Sarmacie," which is lacking in most copies; in fact, the copy lacks none of the peculiarities noted by bibliographers, including the blank page following folio CCC. Of the work, Dr. Dibden says, "If Koberger had printed only the Chronicle, he would have done enough to place his name among the most distinguished of his typographical brethren." .The engravings are upon wood and are executed by Wolgemut and Pluydenwurff; the former of whom was master of Albert Durer. There are upwards of two thousand two hundred and fifty impressions of the woodcuts. Some few margins have been repaired. The first capital letter is illuminated in gold and colors, and the work is indexed on the margins throughout.

677 Incunabula. Curculio Plauti Comoedia Jonge lepidissima; metro numeriscqz a Pilado restituta et scholijs a Nicolas buscheducensi graphici illustrata.

Post 8vo, original boards, uncut. Peterhead (Scotland), 1828

Extremely rare. Privately printed by the editor at a private press established by himself in the North of Scotland. A curious history of the "Amours and Life of Macbeth," which the editor states was obtained from a very old man whose habit was to preserve every fragment of ancient Scottish literature that fate chanced to throw in his way. The manuscript is printed as given to the editor, excepting that the orthography has been somewhat modernized, and certain passages printed in full "which may seem rather luxuriant to the censorious reader . . . but which if they had been brought down to the rules of decent policy would have destroyed the original."

735 Meredith, George. Modern Love, and Poems of the English Roadside, with Poems and Ballads.

12mo, cloth, uncut. London, Chapman & Hall, 1862

Edmund Clarence Stedman copy, with autograph and bookplate. A VERY FINE COPY, OF THE FIRST EDITION, IN THE EARLIEST CLOTH BINDING. George Meredith being at the time of the publication of this volume a comparatively unknown author, Chapman and Hall would venture on but a very small edition of this Book of Verse, and most of them remained in the sheets on the publisher's shelves for several years. When the public at last realized that a great writer was in their midst, they clamored for this forgotten volume of poems, the sheets were hurriedly dusted and bound in a cloth approximating to the original as nearly as possible, but of a smoother surface, and a very small proportion of buyers obtained copies. Most of the few copies that occur in either the auction room or on the bookseller's shelves are of this second binding, the original being extremely rare.

736 Meredith, George. The Shaving of Shagpat, an Arabian Entertainment.

Folio, full polished mottled calf, gilt, dentelle borders, gilt edges. London : Printed by M. Flesher, for Rich ; Royston, 1632

Fine tall copy. Very scarce. Contains "To the Beholder of this Title" generally missing. The work was translated by the "still resolute John Florio." This translation is one of the great landmarks of English literature, on account of the purity and quaint directness of the language employed; and this particular edition of it (the third) is the one which is of greater literary value than any other, because it is the one which contains Florio's last corrections, improvements and additions. It is consequently the standard text from which every succeeding edition is printed, and to which all references are made. This copy is in fine conditon, and should be secured by any one interested in collecting the best old editions of books that have greatly influenced English language and thought. Florio, the translator, or as he preferred to style himself, "the still resolute John Florio," is said to be the original of Holofernes in Shakespeare's "Love's Labour Lost."

FIRST EDITION OF POE'S RAVEN.

795 Poe, Edgar Allan. The Raven, and other poems.

12mo, original sheets, unstitched and uncut, in full crushed morocco solander case. New York, Wiley and Putnam, 161 Broadway, 1845

The excessively rare First Edition in book form, as it was issued in Wiley and Putnam's "Library of American Books," with the half title, in the original sheets uncut, and probably the only copy in this condition in existence. It has also the four pages of advertisements at the back.

Poe first sent the manuscript of the Raven to the "American Whig Review." It was accepted and set up in type for the February number, 1845. The editor of the Review sent a copy to N. P. Willis, then editor of the New York "Evening Mirror," who, being much struck with it, obtained permission to present it to the readers of his paper, and it there appeared on January 29, 1845, preceded by the following note by the editor: "We are permitted to copy (in advance of publication) from the second number of the American Review the following remarkable poem by Edgar Poe. In our opinion, it is the most effective single example of fugitive poetry ever published in this country, and unsurpassed in English poetry for subtle conception, masterly ingenuity of versification, and consistent sustaining of imaginative lift. . . . It is one of those 'dainties bred in a book' which we feed on. It will stick to the memory of everybody who reads it."

For the Poe collection this is a great item. See facsimile item.

THE ORIGINAL LETTER OF ARREST FOR BOSS TWEED.

868 Robson, Geo. W. Secretary of the Navy. Letter Signed. 3pp, folio, Washington, Oct. 20, 1876, to Commodore J. N. A. Nicholson, Commandant, Navy Yard, Brooklyn, L. I.

The original order of arrest for William M. Tweed, the notorious New York politician and boodler.

"W. M. Tweed will probably arrive in the U. S. S. Franklin during the last week of the current month. Immediately upon the report of the arrival of the Franklin in the lower bay, you will cause the yard tug to be prepared, and you will personally take command of her, and receive on board District Attorney George Bliss and Ben. K. Phelps, W. C. Connor, Sheriff of the City and County of New York, and two Confidential Custom House officers, with credentials signed by Collector of Customs Arthur, of the New York Custom House. No other persons save the Pilot and usual crew of the tug must be permitted to board.

"Upon your arrival on board the Franklin, you will hand the Commanding Officer, the accompanying communication from this Navy Department.

"The Commanding Officer of the Franklin, has in this communication been directed to deliver to W. C. Cannon, Sheriff of the City and County of New York, the body of the passenger from Vigo, supposed to be W. M. Tweed, to take duplicate receipts for him, one to be retained by the Commanding Officer, and one to be forwarded to the Department. The Commanding Officer has also been authorized to deliver to the Sheriff of the City and County of New York such personal baggage of the supposed W. M. Tweed as was not delivered into his hands by the Spanish authorities, but only after said baggage shall have been searched and examined and passed by the Custom House officers selected for that purpose.

" After the person believed to be W. M. Tweed, together with his personal baggage as before referred to, shall have been delivered into the custody of the Sheriff, you will be pleased to receive them on board the tug, and to land them at such wharf as may previously have been mutually agreed upon by the Sheriff and yourself. All the proceedings herein specified are to be conducted as quietly and with as little notoriety as practicable, and are to be confidential. Telegraph to the Department when Tweed arrives.

Respectfuly,
GEO. M. ROBSON,
Sec. of Navy."

The first known edition. Rodd, the London bookseller, who issued this edition, stated that Shelley printed only 20 copies of the original. Of this original edition, no copy is known to-day, and the only one of which there is any record —that used by Rodd for this issue, has also disappeared. Only a very limited edition of this reprint was issued by Rodd and has now become very rare, and it is an indispensable first edition in a collection of Shelley's works.

PRE-RAPHAELITE TENNYSON.

925 Tennyson, Alfred. Poems by. (Illustated by Millias, Rossetti, Hunt, and others).

8vo, full polished light calf, gilt, dentelle borders. gilt edges, by Reviere. Edward Moxon, London, 1857.

Fine copy of the First Edition of the Pre-Raphaelite Tennyson, now scarce. Tennyson and Moxon projected this edition, and it is believed to have been at the poet's suggestion that the artists were chosen. The illustrations include the Lady of Shalott, by Hunt and Rosetti; The Palace of Art (2), by Rosetti; Mariana in the South, and Sir Galahad, by the same; Holman Hunt contributed Oriana (2), Lady Godiva, The Beggar Maid, and two others; Millais drew the pictures for Mariana, Dream of Fair Women (2), Dora (2), St. Agnes Eve, Locksley Hall. and several others.

Rosetti's designs are fewer than the others by the Brotherhood, owing to his procrastination and the many corrections and alterations he made during the engravings of the blocks, absolutely refusing to approve anything that did not express exactly the idea conveyed by his drawing. As Rosetti's art was distinguished by its independence of rules and conventionalities, so may these illustrations of his be found not strictly adhering to the letter of the text, but have to be considered as examples of the spirituality and intensity of feeling which were the aim of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood at their best period. Holman Hunt's Lady of Shalott, Rosetti's St. Cecelia, and Sir Galahad, the sweetness and simplicity of Millais' St. Agnes and Edward Gray stand forth prominently among the illustrations.

Other artists were Stanfield, Mulready, Horsley, etc. Thomas Woolner contributed the portrait of Tennyson.

INTERESTING COLLECTION OF LETTERS OF J. A. McN. WHISTLER.

966 Whistler (James A. McNeill.) A series of eight autograph letters by Whistler relating to a transaction with a money lender, to whom he offers his painting of Carlyle as security. With reproduction of the portrait of Carlyle.

Oblong 4to, brown levant morocco, by the Adams Bindery (1878)

An interesting series of letters, mainly undated, from which the following extracts are taken:

Feb. 19, 1878: "I am sorry Howell did not see you until yesterday, which accounts for my receiving your letters—he simply gave you this cheque of mine for his own convenience—renewing it with you by the payment of such interest as you charge him. He also tells me that he has discussed with you the question of my needing £150 at once and my willingness to deposit with you my Carlyle picture for security," etc.

Extract from a later letter:

"I enclose copy of letter from Mr. Howell—which will make it clear to you that I am myself as much the creditor as you and the one far away most agrieved."

Followed by the Copy (which is in Whistler's hand:)

April 26: "From what I have seen of you I feel every confidence that you will not press too hardly upon me in Howell's matter—I am most desirous to save myself from being put to law expenses, but as I have no money I propose your taking a picture of mine and holding it as security—breakfast with me, say on Wednesday next—and we will select the picture."

Extract from next letter:

"Will Thursday suit you better—or will you make an appointment," etc.

Extract from next letter:

"I have not heard from you at all in answer to my last letter asking if you would appoint your own morning to breakfast with me—fix any morning next week if you happen to be engaged for the next few days," etc.

May 31: "I am shocked to hear from Mr. Watts that he has received notice from your lawyers that they are proceeding with the case—This after your assurance that you intend to treat with me in a friendly spirit is astounding. Surely the lawyer must be doing this without your instructions. I have been expecting a visit from you as you wrote to say that you were coming—Will you come on Monday at 2 o'clock—or half past one and let us arrange the matter as I proposed.

I have seen Howell who assured me you had settled with him about a picture.—

But in every case you know that he is now coming into the money for his house and this liability of his will be paid off the first thing—

Pray therefore stop the lawyers immediately."

The final act in this little drama is the following note from which half the blank sheet has been torn, not injuring any writing:

"The picture shall be taken to you to-morrow (Wednesday, June 5th) at about 12 or 1 o'clock—Please have someone there to receive as I understand that when you are out others in the same building are quite indifferent and it would not do to leave the picture with them.—

Sincerely yours with many thanks for your amiability.

Jas M'N Whistler."

Such a complete series of correspondence with regard to any incident in Whistler's life, is very rare.

DICKENSON'S GOD'S PROTECTING PROVIDENCE.

1081 Dickenson, Jonathan. God's Protecting Providence, Man's Surest Help and Defence, in Times of the Greatest Difficulty, and most Eminent Danger. Evidenced In the Remarable Deliverance of Robert Barrow, with divers other Persons, from the Devouring Waves of the Sea; amongst which they suffered Shipwrack; And also, From the cruel Devouring Jaws of the Inhuman Canibals of Florida; Faithfully Related by one of the Persons concerned therein, Jonathan Dickenson.
Small 8vo, full maroon calf, gilt, gilt edges. Printed in Philadelphia: Re-printed in London, and Sold by T. Sowle, in White-Hart Court in Gracious-court, 1700.
Collation: Title, Preface, 8pp, pp. 1–85, and 8pp. advertisement.
Fine tall copy. See facsimile title.

This edition of Jonathan Dickenson's narrative of shipwreck and captivity among the Indians of Florida is EVEN RARER THAN THE FIRST EDITION OF PHILADELPHIA. The practically unknown fact that THERE WERE TWO EDITIONS PRINTED IN 1700, one containing 89 pages, and the other complete in 85 pages, is here presented. THE ABOVE IS THE LAST NAMED AND IS BY FAR THE RARER OF THE TWO.
A comparison of the Lenox copies of the two editions shows THAT THE TYPE WAS RESET THROUGHOUT. Sabin (No. 20,015) describes the edition of 89 pages (the copy in the Library of Congress).

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE COPY IN THE LENOX LIBRARY WE CANNOT TRACE ANOTHER COPY OF THE EDITION OF 85 PAGES.

Mr. Field evidently did not know of the existence of THIS EDITION WITH 85 PAGES, as he makes no mention of it, although in mentioning the first edition of 1699, he says of the 1700 edition (89 pages) that . . . (it) . . . "is almost equally rare, at least I have never seen, or indeed heard of a copy."

The author and his wife, who resided in Jamaica, joined the Society of Friends but a short time before embarking on the voyage described in the above book.

1082 The Same.

Small 8vo, half calf. Printed in Philadelphia. Reprinted in London, and sold by T. Sowle, in White-Hart-Court in Gracious-street, 1700.

Collation: Title, Preface, 8pp., pp. 1–89.

Cut close. This is a shorter octavo, the title being set closer and the word "Shipwrack" in capitals: whereas the earlier one described above has it in large text type.

1083 Dickenson (Jonathan). God's Protecting Providence, Man's Surest Help and Defence, in Times of Greatest Difficulty, and Most Eminent Danger; Evidenced in the Remarkable Deliverance of Robert Barrow, with divers other persons, from the Devouring Waves of the Sea; amongst which they Suffered Shipwrack; and also From the cruel Devouring Jaws of the Inhuman Canibals of Florida.

EARLY LIFE OF U. S. GRANT.

1113 Grant, U. S. A batch of twelve letters, from or relating to G. B. Bailey, whom Grant succeeded as a cadet at West Point, and who afterward was killed during the war when fighting as a volunteer officer, his death being described in some of the letters. Bailey, writing from Portsmouth, Ohio, to a former classmate at West Point of himself and Grant, says, under date of January 3, 1858:

"Do you ever see any of our old West Point associates. I heard from U. S. Grant lately. He has left the army and is quietly settled on a farm near St. Louis. * * He was a clever fellow in many particulars, bnt sadly addicted to spirits of late years." Another letter, dated December 28, 1858, from Bailey, says: "I saw Captain Grant's father a few days since. You recollect U. S Grant—the old gentleman, who by the way is the greatest brag I have ever met with, informed me he would have to take U. S. and his family home and make him over again, as he had no business qualifications whatever—had failed in everything—all his other boys were good business men, &c., &c. The truth is that U. S. is the only one of the family that has any soul in him."

12mo, three-quarter tan crushed levant, gilt, gilt edges.
A. Utricht, Chez Guillaume Broedelet, 1697

First Edition. A few worm holes skillfully repaired. The plates include the first view of Niagara Falls. The maps are in the first state, and it has the duplicate leaves. This is the earliest work on Western History. In this edition the author first claims the credit of having descended the Mississippi before La Salle. His claims to this honor, however, have now been pretty well disproved, though it is certain he was on the Mississippi in 1680, when he was captured by the Sioux Indians and kept a prisoner for eight months. His accounts of the Western Indians at this early date are of the greatest historical value, since during his captivity amongst them he enjoyed unequaled opportunities for observing their customs and habits of life. Rare.

(tears in three first leaves slightly impairing the text very skilfully repaired—title and three last leaves in excellent fac-simile).

12mo, handsomely bound in full light brown crushed levant, inside dentelle borders, top edge gilt by Stikeman (a few worm holes neatly mended).

Boston: Printed by T. Fleet for S. Gerrish, 1726

Original edition of this excessively rare volume, which is esteemed the highest authority on the Indians of the period treated of. Of latter years this book seems almost to have disappeared from the market.

1267 Pennsylvania. A True and Impartial State of the Province of Pennsylvania. Containing an Exact Account of its Government; * * * with a True Narrative of the Dispute between the Governors and Assemblies, etc. The whole being a full answer to the pamphlets entitled a Brief State and a Brief View, etc., of the Conduct of Pennsylvania.

8vo, full dark green crushed levant, dentelle borders. By the Adams Bindery. Philadelphia: W. Dunlap, 1759

One of the rarest books relating to Pennsylvania, and one of several attacking the political rule of the Quakers in the State. The writer of this is unknown, but it has been suggested that it was Benjamin Franklin, Hildeburn stating that if he did not wholly write it, he inspired it. Ford includes it in his Bibliography of Franklin. Very few perfect copies are known of it, and it has never been reprinted. On page 162 it mentions Franklin, and George Washington (a very early reference) on page 89, and on page 106 is an account of the building of Crown Point. A blank portion torn off from upper part of title.

1268 Pidgeon, Wm. Traditions of De-coo-Dah and Antiquarian Researches, comprising extensive Explorations, Surveys and Excavations of the Wonderful and Mysterious Earthen remains of the Mound-Builders in America. Collected and prepared under the direction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, by Henry R. Schoolcraft. Illustrated by S. Eastman, Capt. U. S. A.
6 vols. Large 4to, three-quarter brown levant morocco, gilt tops.
Philadelphia, 1851, 1852, 1853, 1854, 1855, 1857

Has fine A. L. S. of the author to Dr. Theodore R. Beck, relating to the work and introducing Captain S. Eastman, who illustrated the work.

An original copy, First Edition of each volume, of this most valuable encyclopædia of information on the Indians of the United States, now very rare. It was commenced in 1847, the first volume issued in 1851, and the last in 1857, thus taking ten years in its compilation. The history of each tribe is dealt with, their habits, customs, superstitions, beliefs, manufactures, amusements, sign language, methods of communication, modes of living, etc. Incorporated are narratives of trappers, explorers, missonaries and traders who, having lived for considerable periods among various tribes, were the best authorities, the personal experiences of Mr. Schoolcraft himself, gained from many exploratory surveys in the Far West, and translations of old manuscripts, diaries and documents.

The importance of having the First Edition of each volume, especially of the first volume, is a fact that cannot be dwelt on too much. The plates in the first volume, with one exception, are lithographs drawn and colored from the original drawings and coloring of Captain Eastman. In the second and later issues they are steel engravings, cold and hard in execution, copied from the plates in the first volume and in a few cases altered, many of the plates rarely met with colored, more especially the views. The coloring for reproducing Indian totem marks, Indian drawings, etc., is indispensable. The fine drawing and coloring of the view of Itasca Lake, and equally fine design and coloring of the Indian medicine man tending a patient, can only be met with in the first issues.
